

5 WAYS TO GET INVOLVED

in economic reconciliation with indigenous peoples

HOUSING AND INFRASTRUCTURE NEEDS

TANGIBLE
PROFITABLE ALIGNED
COLLABORATIVE
UNIFYING

1.

FINANCE THE RENOVATION OF AN APARTMENT BUILDING

Improve living conditions! Financing the renovation of existing housing helps reduce overcrowding issues, in addition to reducing health risks related to mould, humidity and contamination.

2.

CONTRIBUTE TO INDIGENOUS CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS

Former des partenariats avec des professionnels autochtones de la construction! C'est la meilleure manière de s'assurer que les projets répondent aux besoins des communautés, en plus de créer des emplois locaux. Voici un répertoire d'entrepreneurs Premières Nations.

3.

OFFER TRAINING IN BUILDING TRADES

Offer training programs in fields such as plumbing, electricity, roofing or metallurgy! Such commitments strengthen the skills of Indigenous workers.

4.

IMPLEMENT AN INCLUSIVE FINANCING PROGRAM

Improve access to credit and insurance products for contractors and First Nations people who live in the communities by compensating for the constraints imposed by the Indian Act regarding the exemption of real and personal property from seizure.

5.

HOLD A NETWORKING EVENING ON THE THEME OF HOUSING

Start a discussion! An event bringing together non-Indigenous and Indigenous professionals to address housing issues can give rise to new ideas: collaborations, awareness, commitments, and more.

